Each winter this valley becomes the home of the rare Black Necked Cranes who migrate here from the Tibetan Plateau and because of this the valley is a designated conservation area and one of the most important wildlife reserves in Bhutan. Our trek begins with a slow climb through meadows and fields then continuing up to the Tselela Pass (3400m) where we'll stop for lunch and to enjoy the views. From the pass we'll descend through juniper, magnolia, bamboo and rhododendron forests before a final short climb up to Gogona village where we'll camp tonight. We'll have time to relax and meet some of the villagers this evening.

Day 07: Gogona to Khotokha (2800m)

Leaving Gogona today we'll follow the gently winding trail up through forests of oak, spruce, juniper and rhododendron on the long and gradual ascent to reach Shobjula pass (3400m). ### Climate and Weather

Nepal has a monsoonal two season year with the dry season from October to May and the wet season (monsoon) from June to September. From end September/start October to end November is one of the best times to visit. The vegetation is lush after the rains of the monsoon and the air is clean and fresh. The next best time to visit is February to April at the end of the dry season. It can be a little dusty at this time but the weather is warm and pleasant and its' a great time to see many wildflowers in bloom. December and January are still good in terms of climate and visibility but can be chilly particularly at higher altitudes as well as in the evening in Kathmandu. May and early June can be very hot and uncomfortable and mid June to September can be cloudy with poor visibility and muddy trails although some treks (rainshadow treks) can still be undertaken even during the monsoon.

Between October and November are some of the best times to visit Bhutan, particularly from late September to the end of November which are ideal for trekking and travel in general with warm days and clear skies. In spring the rhododendrons are wonderful as they colour the mountain sides throughout the Kingdom and the days are warm but nights are still cold.

Clothing and Equipment

Generally lightweight to medium weight clothing in natural fabrics is best with warm clothing a must for the evenings and in spring and winter. It's also useful to wear several layers of clothing as temperatures can change suddenly. We also suggest you take comfortable walking shoes and a small day pack or shoulder bag. In the mountains and at high altitude the weather can change rapidly so it is important to have appropriate clothing and equipment. On fully provisioned camping style treks we provide twin share dome or A frame sleeping tents, kitchen tent, mess tent, toilet tent, tables, chairs, stools, lanterns/candles, thin sleeping mattresses, all crockery and cutlery and a fully equipped kitchen set up. Upon booking with us we will send you a suggested clothing and equipment list appropriate to your trip including details of any must have items or items that can be hired (if required).

We request that you aim for a maximum weight of 15 to 20 kg for your main baggage including clothing and personal equipment. Many of our trips involve porters and/or local flights and 15kg is the maximum safe weight allowance for porters and permitted on local flights. International flights will usually permit up to 20kg maximum weight. If trekking, some additional baggage can usually be stored until you return from your trek. Remember you may also want to leave some weight allowance for any items you have bought during your trip! The Himalayan Adventure Company and our local partners are not responsible for excess baggage charges.

The visa process has changed in 2008 and all visas are now multiple entry which you will also need as you will leave then re-enter Nepal after your time in Bhutan. We will provide up to date information on visa requirements, costs and the application process on confirmation of your booking or on request.

To enter Bhutan you will need a separate visa valid for Bhutan. No foreign mission grants visas to enter Bhutan. Through our local representatives in Nepal we will make arrangements for your Bhutanese visa and entry requirements and may ask you to provide information relating to this up to 3 weeks or more in advance of travel. Your visa will be stamped on arrival in Bhutan and cleared in advance. The (current) visa fee of US$20 is payable on arrival at Paro airport. A group medical kit will be carried on each trip or trek but we also recommend that individuals carry their own basic first aid kit and we will send a suggested list of items for this when you make a booking.
