

Made to Measure- Tailor Made Adventures

All of the trips described on our website and in our brochure can be tailored to more closely meet your specific interests and requirements. Just ask us! In addition to that we also offer a complete tailor made service to design the perfect adventure for you.

We have a wealth of experience in accommodating individual requirements, couples, families and small groups by designing and planning individual adventures, ranging from romantic breaks and luxurious honeymoons, to personal challenges, fundraising programs, student programs to extreme adventure expeditions, from low budget to no expense spared. Our tailor made service is extremely popular and is a great way to ensure that you get exactly what you want from your travel plans.

We will work closely with you to design your dream itinerary and have lots of practical suggestions and experience as well as lots of exciting ideas to share with you. We understand that one size doesn't fit all and we're always happy to spend time ensuring we understand fully what you're looking for, at every stage. What's more, it won't cost the earth to have your very own bespoke adventure! Our advertised brochure prices will give you an idea of what you can expect to pay but we'll provide individual quotes based upon your itinerary, requirements, budget and number of people travelling.

Let us take care of the research and arrangements for your flights, accommodation, guides, transport, permits, peak fees, equipment requirements, food and all ground handling service for treks, expeditions or tours, using our local knowledge, expertise and contacts. And you can get on with enjoying yourself. We can also help you with any planning or briefing events you may want to organise for your group whilst you are planning your travel.

“ The trek was brilliant - everyone coped well and the number of days and length of days was just right. So all our lengthy conversations and your patience were worth it! The back packs were extremely comfortable and well designed. We used the waterproof covers once which worked well. It was great being our own group. Amrit our guide was excellent and so was the food. ”

VERONICA BLISS, private Annapurna National Park trek, Chitwan safari and Delhi & Agra tour

Photo courtesy Mrs Veronica Bliss

Adventure for schools, colleges and universities

It's often said that travel is the best education. Adventure trips for students provide an excellent opportunity for learning on many levels, as students and accompanying staff experience the wonders of the Himalaya.

Students can learn about their subject areas first hand from experienced instructors and guides with potential benefits of better teamworking, increased confidence, wider understanding of different cultures and a wider view of the wonderful and diverse world in which we live.

We tailor itineraries to meet interests, syllabus or research requirements, for individuals, small groups or entire classes. In addition, we can arrange for students and staff to undertake voluntary work or a specific short project within local communities (for example in village schools), as part of the educational experience. We focus our educational expeditions in Nepal and will work closely with you to organize a safe, educational and memorable expedition for your students or staff, taking care of all necessary arrangements to suit your requirements and objectives.

We help and support you with all the necessary preparation and planning including risk assessment, fundraising, briefings and training. We can also provide support and advice with any planning or briefing events you may want to organise for your students, staff or parents whilst you are planning or raising support for your expedition.

If you already know the expedition you'd like to organize, if you'd like suggestions on where to go and what to do for an educational expedition, or if you need advice on the practicalities involved we'll be happy to discuss it with you.

FREE PLACES

If you are organising a trip for a group or a club, we'll give you one FREE place for every 10 bookings. You can use this for your own travel, to reduce the overall cost of the trip for everyone or perhaps offer it as a fantastic prize for your group members or for charity. Just contact us for details.

As with all our adventure trips you can be confident of the best service, expert advice, competitive pricing and 100% security for you and your booking.

Tell us your interests and plans and we will work with you and help you to realise them, ensuring safety, quality and a fantastic adventure travel experience.

Simply contact us to discuss your ideas and begin your adventure.-

Corporate Services

We offer a range of services for corporate clients, including teambuilding, management development and social events and programmes in the Himalaya. These could be incentives, rewards and loyalty schemes to appeal to, motivate or thank your staff and clients and make your business really stand out from the crowd.

Nepal and India are ideal destinations for conferences, company meetings and incentives with stunning landscapes, good communication and transport links and high quality hotels with efficient business centres and experienced staff familiar with meeting the needs of business travellers. Their convenient location mid way between the Far East and Europe is also useful for meeting with Asian business partners or an interesting and enjoyable choice to extend your stay before or after a business trip whilst trekking, golfing and other adventure activities also offer excellent opportunities for team building, development and staff incentive programmes. If you would like to know more about our corporate services and activities, please contact us.

Romantic Adventures

The Himalaya is a truly captivating setting for your special occasion. From the steaming jungles, lush valleys, colourful capital and awesome peaks of Nepal, to the exotic royal palaces of Rajasthan. From the soothing waterways of Kerala and the ultimate monument to romance, the Taj Mahal, to the serenity and remote havens on the roof of the world.

Whether you want to arrange a special wedding blessing, enjoy a relaxing honeymoon, celebrate a special anniversary or simply share a romantic break with someone special, the Himalaya has something to offer everyone. Wake up to the unforgettable views of the Himalayan range from your hotel balcony, explore the sultry south on a jungle safari, lose yourself in the bustling street markets, escape to the serenity of the temples and quiet courtyards, journey through the land of palaces and share intimate dinners in beautiful restaurants.

Contact us and we'll be happy to discuss your requirements and share lots of ideas & suggestions to make your trip extra special.

“ Thanks for your welcome home note. I find myself regularly thinking "what were we doing this time last week" so we have some wonderful memories. All the staff we encountered in both countries [Nepal & India] were excellent and really went out of their way to make us feel welcome. ...we really had a wonderful time in Nepal, whose stunning beauty is matched by the warmth and friendliness of its people. It is a place we will definitely revisit in the future and next time I think we will do some trekking. Thanks again for all your help and I will certainly be recommending your company to anyone I know that intends to visit that part of the world. Thanks for everything, ”

PATRICK. GRIFFIN AND PAULA CLARKE, luxury cultural tour Nepal & India, September 2008