Introduction:

This is a classic trek with a distinctive Tibetan flavour. Manaslu Himal is the mountain region between the two big rivers, Buri Gandaki and the Marshyangdi. It's also called the Gorkha Himal and Manaslu (8163m), Peak 29 (7871m) and Himalchuli (7893m) are well known as the three peaks of Manaslu. During this magical trip you'll circumnavigate Manaslu and enjoy inspiring Himalayan views along the route. You'll follow age old trails through thick forest, over high ridge tops and through deep river gorges, through dramatic wilderness of glacial valleys and over high mountain passes into the heart of the Manaslu group and even into the high plains of Tibet. You'll visit traditional villages and ancient secluded monasteries and encounter the rugged people of Tibetan stock. Larkya La pass marks the divide between Manaslu's less trekked western flanks and the Marshyangdi River valley eventually ending at the relaxing lakeside resort town of Pokhara.

Day 01: Arrive Kathmandu

Namaste and welcome to Nepal. You'll be met and assisted at the airport by our local representatives who will arrange your transfer and check in to your hotel. After time to rest and get refreshed enjoy a welcome dinner at a restaurant in the heart of Kathmandu, before turning in for a good night's rest at the hotel.

Day 02: Kathmandu and Valley

After breakfast today it's time for a relaxed and easy walking tour to Kathmandu's central Durbar Square including visits to an ancient palace, the living goddess Kumari temple, Hanuman Dhoka and Kastamandap temple. From here we'll continue on to Swoyambhunath Stupa, also known as the Monkey Temple, with its fine views over Kathmandu and many interesting features as well as the great stupa itself. Join the devotees, pilgrims and wandering siddhus (holy men) at Pashupatinath. Pashupatinath is the most important Hindu temple in Nepal as well as being one of the most important Shiva temples on the subcontinent, situated on the banks of the holy Bagmati River. Take time to walk around Bodhnath (Boudha) stupa, the largest in Nepal and one of the largest in the world. Boudha is also the centre of Tibetan culture in Nepal and a wonderfully vibrant, interesting community. This evening we'll drive back to Kathmandu where we'll have a group briefing on what to expect when our trek begins tomorrow, a chance for you to ask any remaining questions and to meet your trek crew. The remainder of this evening is free for you to explore the surrounding area or simply relax at the hotel.

Day 03: Kathmandu to Gorkha (1650m)

Today we'll travel by bus from Kathmandu to Gorkha (around 7 hours). Gorkha is well known as the birth place of the present Shah dynasty and within the village is the old royal palace as well as many temples. We'll take time to visit the Royal Palace in Gorkha and to explore the surrounding area. From here we'll also have excellent panoramic view of the Annapurnas, Manaslu, the Ganesh Himal and Langtang Himal. We'll stay overnight at our local guest house in Gorkha.

Day 04: Gorkha to Khanchowk (1000m)

After breakfast we'll begin our trek, starting with a careful descent along a stone-paved path until we reach Ahale village where we'll stop for lunch. From here we'll continue on to Taple and the path becomes a gentle ascent. After Taple we'll reach a pass and continue for a while along a ridge with good open views. During the trek we'll travel through splendid landscapes and a variety of fruit farming areas including orange orchards. Finally we'll descend a steep slope by a well maintained path with stone steps until we reach Khanchowk where we'll camp tonight.

Day 05: Khanchowk to Arughat Bazaar (530m)

Today the trail makes an abrupt descent into the valley first towards Kuwa Pani. When we reach the river shores further downstream we'll cross to the other bank. From there the trail traverses high across the flank overlooking the Buri Gandaki and its another 2-3 hours before we reach Rata Mata where we'll have lunch before heading on towards Arughat Bazaar. We'll cross the suspension bridge over the tributary to reach Arughat, the largest village in the Burigandaki basin. Most of the villagers here are of Newari descent. We'll camp here tonight.

Day 06: Arughat to Khursani Bari (840m)

This morning we'll follow the trail as it heads out of town through open meadows with the milky blue waters of the Buri Gandaki flowing below. The trail continues through several small villages as it rises and falls through the forest crossing a number of streams below waterfalls. When we reach Arkhet we'll have fantastic views of the beautiful massif of Ganesh Himal. From here we'll trek towards Khorketar for lunch. Our trek continues for another 3 hours through scenic mountain landscapes until the trail comes to Khursani Bari where we'll relax for the evening.

Day 07: Khursani Bari to Machhi Khola (920m)

Today we'll follow the trail through beautiful countryside to reach Lapu Bensi where we'll stop for a break. We'll continue on as the trail passes some local houses and rises around the hillside before reaching Machhi Khola village. This area is mostly inhabited by the Garuva ethnic group whose main livelihood is fishing rather than farming. We'll camp here tonight.

Day 08: Machhi Khola to Jagat (1350m)

After breakfast today the trail climbs on a rugged path for 1-2 hours up to Khorlashi. From here we'll continue our trek towards Tatopani (hot water springs) where we'll sit and relax and enjoy the views during lunch. From here our route climbs over a ridge and we'll trek along the riverside before reaching Jagat, a small village with a police checkpost and a number of local lodges. We'll camp here overnight.

Day 09: Jagat to Philim (1415m)

Leaving the village today we'll follow the trail as it passes through the west bank of the Buri Gandaki and heads towards Surtibas where we'll have lunch today. After lunch we'll continue to follow the trail towards Philim where we'll rest and relax for the night.

Day 10: Philim to Ghap

Leaving Philim we'll follow the path as it rises and descends then rises again among pine forest with wonderful views into a small gorge carved by the river far below, both up and down the valley. We'll stop for lunch at Dyang. Continuing on we're likely to meet many people of Tibetan origin in this area. We'll also see a variety of monasteries, mani (prayer) stones and even water powered prayer wheels as we follow the trail to Ghap following the path alongside cultivated farmland. We'll camp overnight at Ghap.

Day 11: Ghap to Lo Gaon (3100m)

As we progress further up the valley today, other peaks will start to appear, including Manaslu North and Naike Peak. The trail today passes more groups of houses, several of them draped in prayer flags. After crossing a stream we'll climb uphill to Lo Gaon, a large village with stunning views of Manaslu and Mt Ganesh clearly visible. The trails today are steep and we'll be walking at high elevation so need to be aware of the symptoms of mountain sickness. There are several more chortens, mani (prayer) walls and a gumpa here as well as a campsite where we'll rest overnight.

Day 12: Lo Gaon to Sama Gaon (3500m)

Today we'll follow the trail as it descends then climbs again before emerging onto a ridge overlooking the pastures and fields of Sama Gaon. We'll stop for lunch at Syala before continuing our journey. The valley ahead of us soon opens up and we'll descend to a wide, flat meadow where yaks are left to graze. As well as the grazing meadows we'll pass through other farmland and crop fields of potatoes before reaching Sama and our rest point for tonight.

Day 13: Sama Gaon (rest day)

Today we rest and acclimatize at Sama. We'll have the opportunity to visit Sama Gumpa about 20 minutes walk from the village. The gumpa, located on top of the hill, is well worth the short walk and just after it there is a wide grassy area of land from where we'll be able to see a clear view of the northern face of Mt Manaslu (best in the evenings and mornings). The surrounding area is very beautiful and well worth taking the time to just sit and enjoy.

Day 14: Sama Gaon to Samdo

Today we'll leave Sama and descend to the Buri Gandaki, which has now turned north again, and follow it to a bridge over one of the tributaries. We'll take the trail to the left which leads to Manaslu base camp. When we enter the meadow from the path on the river shores we'll reach Kermo Kharka, looking up at Manaslu right in front of us. After passing the Kharka we'll follow a long medan and the valley narrows gradually with the path traversing up the flank. We'll follow the path downward on the gentle flank before ascending again. The border of Tibet is only a day's walk to the north and Samdo, where we'll camp tonight, is the last village before crossing the Larkya Pass (5200m).

Day 15: Samdo to Guest House/Dharmasala (4450m)

This morning we slowly follow the valley then climb upwards again towards high camp, also known as Guest House. This is not, as the name suggests, a lodge but a form of shelter called 'Dharmasala' used for crossing over the pass. Reaching Guest House we'll rest for today and camp overnight.

Day 16: Dharmasala to Larkya La/Bimtang (3720m)

Today our route begins up the ridge in front of the guest house which eventually becomes a long gentle climb beside a moraine. We'll cross a small bridge then descend slightly to a lake before climbing the ridge until we reach the top of the moraine at 4700m. The trail here becomes rougher and indistinct as it crosses the moraine to the south of a steep grassy slope. It takes about 3-4 hours from the guest house to the pass and is extremely cold and windy climbing on the Larkya La, often in snowstorms. The descending trail follows along the top of a moraine to the west, then drops steeply and traverses scree slopes. It makes a long set of steep, rough switchbacks, crosses the moraine and then descends more gently. The trail improves before we reach a large meadow with a mani wall and small rest house. The place here is called Bimtang, which is a Tibetan name meaning 'plain of sand'. We'll rest at Bimtang tonight.

Day 17: Bimtang to Tilje

The trail drops steeply today with a journey of about 6-7 hours to reach Tilje. From the Bimtang meadow the trail crosses a glacial stream, the headwaters of the Dudh Khola, by a wooden bridge. We'll climb over the side of the moraine and descend into a pine and rhododendron forest to reach Hompuk (3430m). The walking improves as the trail descends and switches back down to a fork of the Dudh Khola before following the river through forests to a goth (3030m). We'll continue through fields, over a clear stream and past local houses and farmland interspersed with rhododendron and oak forests, staying on the north bank until we reach Tilje, in the Manang District. We'll camp here overnight.

Day 18: Tilje to Sange

This morning we'll cross the wooden bridge to the left bank of the Dudh Khola where the path begins a gentle descent. After about one hour we'll cross the suspension bridge over the Marshyangdi River before we reach Dharampati (1860m) where we'll have lunch before continuing our journey for another 4-5 hours on a steep descent towards Sange where we'll camp and relax for the evening.

Day 19: Sange to Bhulbhule (1300m)

Today we'll continue on our trail as it zigzags up and down before reaching Bahundanda where we'll rest for lunch. Our route takes us across the river, past villages and rice paddies. The Bahun, Tamang and Gurung people live in Bahundana village. From here we'll continue towards Bhulbhule as the trail crosses steeply upwards and downwards. Reaching Bhulbhule we'll camp for tonight.

Day 20: Bhulbhule to Beshi Sahar to Kathmandu

Today our trek comes to an end as we trek down the narrow valley past Ngadi until we reach Beshisahar. It'll take us around 2-3 hours to get there and from here we'll drive back to Kathmandu. After checking in to our hotel the remainder of the day is at leisure.

Day 21: Kathmandu

Today is a rest day and free for you to relax or explore the streets of Kathmandu, perhaps catch up on some last minute shopping or simply relax with a coffee or glass of wine and watch life go by, Kathmandu style. In the morning there's the chance to take an optional mountain flight to see Everest close up or enjoy a late lie in at the hotel.

Day 22: Departure

Today is free to relax until departure or to commence any additional trips or activities you may have booked. If departing, you'll be transferred to the International Airport in time for your return flight home.

Climate and Weather

Nepal has a monsoonal two season year with the dry season from October to May and the wet season (monsoon) from June to September. From end September/start October to end November is one of the best times to visit. The vegetation is lush after the rains of the monsoon and the air is clean and fresh. The next best time to visit is February to April at the end of the dry season. It can be a little dusty at this time but the weather is warm and pleasant and it's a great time to see many wildflowers in bloom. December and January are still good in terms of climate and visibility but can be chilly particularly at higher altitudes as well as in the evening in Kathmandu. May and early June can be very hot and uncomfortable and mid June to September can be cloudy with poor visibility and muddy trails although some treks (rainshadow treks) can still be undertaken even during the monsoon.

Clothing and Equipment

Generally lightweight to medium weight clothing in natural fabrics is best with warm clothing a must for chilly evenings and at high altitude. For visits to more remote areas including Everest Base Camp, a warm down jacket, hat and gloves are suitable. It's also useful to wear several layers of clothing as

itineraries

temperatures can change suddenly. To a large extent it depends where you plan to go and what you plan to do. For example during winter if you are on safari in the southern Terai region you'll need a t-shirt. At the same time if you're in Kathmandu you'll probably need a jacket as well. And if you're at Everest Base Camp you'll need to be very well wrapped up. During the monsoon you'll need a light rain jacket. We also suggest you take comfortable walking shoes and a small day pack or shoulder bag as well as sunscreen, a hat and good sunglasses. In the mountains and at high altitude the weather can change rapidly so it is important to have appropriate clothing and equipment. Clothing is easily and cheaply available in Kathmandu so it's rarely a problem if you forget to pack something. On fully provisioned camping style treks we provide twin share dome or A frame sleeping tents, kitchen tent, mess tent, toilet tent, tables, chairs, stools, lanterns/candles, thin sleeping mattresses, all crockery and cutlery and a fully equipped kitchen set up. Upon booking with us we will send you a suggested clothing and equipment list appropriate to your trip including details of any must have items or items that can be hired (if required).

Baggage Allowance

We request that you aim for a maximum weight of 15 to 20 kg for your main baggage including clothing and personal equipment. Many of our trips involve porters and/or local flights and 15kg is the maximum safe weight allowance for porters and permitted on local flights. International flights will usually permit up to 20kg maximum weight. If trekking, some additional baggage can usually be stored until you return from your trek. Remember you may also want to leave some weight allowance for any items you have bought during your trip! The Himalayan Adventure Company and our local partners are not responsible for excess baggage charges.

FREE Himalayan Adventure Company Travel Gift

On confirmation of booking we will provide a complimentary travel gift (subject to availability). The gifts vary each year and past gifts have included trek bags and t-shirts.

Passport and Visa Requirements

A full valid passport and a current visa is required for all trips and treks. Passports must have at least 6 months validity after the completion date of your trip. To secure your booking and avoid any additional charges, information (eg spelling of name) provided to us on your booking form must match exactly the details as shown in your passport. To enter Nepal you will require a visa which can be obtained in advance from the Nepalese Embassy in London (UK applications) or on arrival at the airport in Kathmandu for a fee of US$40 for a visa valid up to 30 days. The visa process has changed in 2008 and all visas are now multiple entry. We will provide up to date information on visa requirements, costs and the application process on confirmation of your booking or on request.

You are responsible for ensuring you have a valid passport and visa prior to departure. Where appropriate, we will arrange any special permits or visas required to visit specific restricted areas included as part of the itinerary whilst you are in the country and may request information from you to allow us to do this.

Permits

To enter certain areas e.g. National Parks or other trekking or protected areas, you may require a permit. All our trip prices include the cost of relevant permits and entrance fees. Where this is not the case, for example you have booked a tailor made private trip, we will inform you of any required permit fees before you make a booking with us.

Health and Medical Information

It is your responsibility to ensure you are well and fit enough to join the trip. If you are unsure of this please contact our office to talk it through with one of our experienced staff members. We also recommend you speak to your GP if you are in any way unsure of your fitness level required to join the trip. We also suggest you have a thorough medical and dental check up before you travel. You may need specific vaccinations appropriate to the country or area you will visit. You must tell us if you have an existing medical condition or disability that might affect your holiday before you make a booking with us. If, in our reasonable opinion, your chosen holiday is not suitable for your medical condition, disability or level of fitness, we reserve the right to cancel the contract or to suggest more appropriate alternative options for you. A group medical kit will be carried on each trip or trek but we also recommend that individuals carry their own basic first aid kit and we will send a suggested list of items for this when you make a booking.

For useful health and general travel advice and information we suggest you visit the Foreign and Commonwealth Office website at <http://www.fco.gov.uk/knowbeforeyougo> and also obtain a copy of the UK Department of Health leaflet Advice on Health for Travellers or speak to your local GP or practice nurse for their recommendations.

If you choose to phone us with your debit or credit card details, a signed and completed booking form will still be required for confirmation of booking. Bookings will only be confirmed once we receive a completed and signed booking form along with appropriate payment.

We will confirm your booking and email you a trip dossier which will include confirmation of your booking, receipt of payment/invoice, a day by day itinerary, visa and trekking permit instructions, vaccination and health information, a suggested first aid pack list, a suggested equipment and clothing list, a suggested reading list appropriate to your destination, a responsible travel briefing and other useful information relevant to your booking.

The final balance for your booking will be due 12 weeks (3 months) before departure. NO REMINDER WILL BE SENT. Your Himalayan Adventure Company travel gift will be mailed to you separately, usually a few weeks before your departure date. For clients outside the UK, a gift will be sent on payment of delivery costs only.

We wish you a wonderful Himalayan adventure!
